CLARION, PA., Sept. 4, 1886.

From the above it appears that the following pupils were present at the public examination at the close of the first year:

Alviso, Ignacio	Forbes, Frederick
Arques, Joaquin	Forbes, James
Bascom, Alpheus	Forbes, Louis
Brown, William	Fuller, James
Burnett, John M	Grimes, Frank W.
Burnett, Armstead	Hernandez, Joaquin
Cobb, Henry A.	Martin, Charles
Colahan, John T.	Miramontes, Jose M.
Davini, Enrique	Murphy, Martin
Dye, Andronico	Murphy, Bernard D.
Forbes, Charles H.	Pinero, Jose
Forbes, James Alex'r	Sunol, Dolores
Forbes, Michael	White, Thomas

There were other pupils besides these, at some time during the term, either as boarders or day-scholars, but who were probably not in attendance at the close of the term, and therefore not mentioned in above list. Among them, I believe, were Patrick W. Murphy, Hugh and William Menton, Emilio Carpena, and some others whose names I do not now recall.

I reproduce this list as my contribution towards supplying some missing data in the early records of the College, and trust the surviving pupils, and others, whom this may reach, will assist in completing the catalogue of the first year of an institution now so flourishing and famous.

W.R. Bulkley, the music teacher, informed me, by letter of March 1854, that there were then over sixty boarders, and that Fathers Nobili and Salari, Messrs. Pascal, Mitchell, Golder, Fossas, Egin, and himself, with two lay brothers, Kanaka Philip, a cook and a laboring man, constituted the corps and faculty of the College at that time.

BERNARD J. REID,

Sole survivor of the Faculty of 1851-'52.
